Washington, May 22.—The twisted and torn tariff bill received its final compromise touches today from house and senate conferees.

Republican Floor Leader Watson announced the bill would be taken up in the senate Monday with prospects that it will be on its way to the White House for the signature of President Hoover within two weeks.

The conferees have made it more certain that the senate will take favorable action. The lumber senators from the far west were encouraged to support the measure when the house and senate conferees fixed a duty of $1 per thousand feet on soft wood lumber, except railroad ties and telephone poles.

The house has insisted that this commodity remain on the free list but its agents were forced to accept the $1 compromise because senate leaders frankly confessed they might have trouble getting the bill through unless a lumber duty was enacted to satisfy the lumber bloc.

With the lumber group in favor of the bill, the leaders believe it will be passed by the senate by a safe margin. Only one item now remains in dispute among the conferees, the section repealing the flexible provision of the tariff act. As a graceful gesture to the democrats, the conferees agreed to make the tariff commission bi-partisan. It will be composed of six members instead of the present seven, so three may be chosen from the republican and three from the democratic parties.

The conferees now are expected to eliminate the repealer of the democrats which would prevent the commission from fixing tariff rates.

After that is done, the bill will be ready for presentation in each house. Little trouble is expected to be encountered with it in the house where it may be speedily passed, but in the senate democrats are grumbling and threatening to filibuster. Most of the minority leaders, however, believe they should let the measure go through after a week of debate. They believe passage of the measure will have a harmful reaction on the republicans.

The senate appeared today to be divided along purely political lines in its opinion of the lobby committee's reports on the activities of Claudius Huston and John J. Raskob, national chairmen, respectively, of the republican and democratic parties.

Several senators planned today to continue the partisan fight which began with the submission of the reports yesterday. These reports incidentally, brought to the senate's official attention for the first time the widespread criticism directed at Huston for his use of funds given him for the Tennessee River Improvement Association and of Raskob for his large contributions to and work for the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

This criticism was actuated by evidence given the lobby committee when it called the two chairmen before it and interrogated them. Chairman Caraway, a democrat, submitted the report on Huston yesterday, while Senator Robinson, republican, Ind., delivered that on Raskob. Caraway and Chairman Norris of the judiciary who appointed the lobby investigators, planned to speak today.

Interest shifted today from the house and senate floors to committee rooms where several important hearings were in progress. The two chambers plugged away, meanwhile, at routine calendar bills.

A bill of Senator Norbeck, republican, South Dakota, to apply to the sale and manufacture of cooking compounds the same restrictions now applied to oleomargarine was the unfinished business of the senate.

Dual hearings on the London naval treaty were scheduled again today in the senate foreign relations and naval affairs committees. While these hearings are in progress, two moves are underway to speed ratification of the treaty.

Secretary of State Stimson plans to exchange with Great Britain and Japan notes which will clarify some clauses of the treaty which certain senators believe to be subject now to misinterpretation. Meanwhile, President Hoover is bringing the influence of the administration to bear on the senate in an effort to prolong the present session until the treaty is considered.

The senate lobby committee was scheduled today to continue its inquiry into the activities of the Anti-Saloon League.

On the house side, the naval affairs committee planned to continue hearings on the selection of a naval dirigible base on the Pacific coast and the banking and currency committee was scheduled to resume consideration of branch and chain banking.

DEATHAT ST. AEMILIAN'S ORPHANAGE
IN ST. FRANCIS, MILWAU-KEE SUBURB

Milwaukee, Wis., May 22.—(U.P.)—More than 200 orphaned boys and sisters escaped death early today when the fire swept a dormitory and church at the St. Aemilian's orphanage in St. Francis, a suburb.

Three young men and a girl, who were driving by the orphanage and saw the fire, were credited with saving the lives of the 190 orphans and 26 sisters who escaped as flames raced through the dormitory and spread to the church.

The fires still burned long after day-break and firemen from St. Francis and Milwaukee said the flames probably will not be brought under control before late afternoon.

The three motorists noticed a small flame in the dormitory as they drove past early today. They investigated and found the flames rapidly eating through the interior where the boys and sisters slept.

In an effort to awaken someone the two men and girl began breaking windows. By chance they selected windows in the sisters' rooms. By that time the blaze was burning rapidly throughout the building. By the time the sisters awoke the boys, escape was cut off from several directions, leaving only one fire escape that was not licked by the ever-quickening flames.

The sisters, oblivious to their danger, marshalled their sleepy and terrified charges into columns and conducted them down the single stairs to safety.

The three who prevented what at first appeared to be an inevitable major disaster, were Paul Pulkam, musical director of St. Francis seminary nearby, Henry Yottli of Cudahy and Miss Sophie Andrejki, Milwaukee. All three aided the sisters in the rescue after they had spread the alarm.

One of the outstanding heroes of the fire was the Rev. Joseph Baier. While half of the dormitory was in flames and the other half filled with smoke, the priest made a tour of the rooms and felt every bed to make certain that no boy had been left behind. Satisfied that all were safe, he stumbled down the one remaining fire escape to safety, uninjured.

When the excitement calmed down the sisters recounted the heroism of the orphanage, some of them hardly more than babies. Trained in fire drills the children marched out in groups of 10 and 12. All were frightened at the suddenness of the fire and several times it appeared a panic would start. Each time, however, the coolness of the sisters kept the children in order as they marched down the spiral stairway, the flames crackling all around them.

Today's fire was the third large one at the institution and the damage was estimated at $350,000. Fires in 1894 and 1896 caused a total loss of $300,000 but no lives were lost.

Sauge Defense Opens

TO GO TO JURY TONIGHT
OR IN THE MORNINGWALTER ZODROW, 12, TESTIFIES HEARING SAUGE THREATEN HIS MOTHER'S LIFE

Contrary to expectations, Ole Sauge was placed on the stand this afternoon by his attorney to testify in his own defense.

He said he did not know anything about "waiving rights" nor did he understand many of the questions he was asked when he made his confession.

Sauge stated that with reference to the knife, he thought he was being questioned concerning a knife he formerly had. He said he did not have a knife on his person the night Mrs. Zodrow died.

Cross Examination of the defendant by County Attorney Sullivan started at 3:30 P. M.

At 5 P. M. the defense rested, having introduced but one witness, the defendant himself.

Attorneys will present their pleas to the jury tomorrow morning.

Defense in the trial of Ole Sauge, also known as Soggie, charged with manslaughter in the first degree in connection with the death of Mrs. Kathryn Zodrow, wife of Wm. Zodrow at Ironton on March 27, 1930, opened in district court this afternoon.

Events in the trial moved fast today.

The state rested its case at 11:35 A. M. after County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan had read to the jury the confession of Sauge taken the same day of the death of Mrs. Zodrow. The confession was received by the court as an exhibit over the objections of Elmer Kling, defense attorney, concerning questions and answers pertaining to a knife alleged to have been used by Sauge and which the state claims cost the life of the woman.

The last witness for the state was Walter Zodrow, 12-year-old son of the victim, who told of hearing Sauge threaten the life of his mother on two occasions.

"If you go out with other men I will kill you," the boy testified as hearing Sauge address his mother two months before her death.

On another occasion, the youth said, he delivered a note from his mother to Sauge at the Swanson boarding house at Ironton and that upon reading the note which contained a statement by Mrs. Zodrow that she was going out that evening with someone else, Sauge said he would kill her if she did.

The boy said on questioning that his mother went out that evening.

The defense is expected to be based principally on the failure of the state to present the knife alleged to have been used by Sauge in inflicting the injury to Mrs. Zodrow's leg.

It was predicted by attorneys that the case would go to the jury either late this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

The state presented five witnesses this morning: Sheriff Claus Theorin, Mrs. Cora Dougherty, Fred Haskamp, chief of police of Crosby, and Walter Zodrow.

The evidence was chiefly introduced as a foundation to the presentation of the confession.

The Zodrow boy told of the defendant sleeping in the kitchen of their home three or four times last fall while his father was serving sentence in the county jail for sale of liquor.

On cross-examination Walter stated that Sauge had come to his house on several occasions while his father was home also. He said his father came home from jail on January 7 of this year and when questioned as to whether he knew the employment of his father, he said he did not.

State witnesses late yesterday afternoon included Severn Koop, undertaker at Crosby, A. H. Humble, deputy coroner, William Lundgren, Arthur Erickson, George Ridley, chief of police at Ironton, and Officer Emil Swanson of Ironton.

Lundgren who said he lived near the Ed Johnson home where Mrs. Zodrow died, testified that Mrs. Johnson came running to his house and requested that he call a doctor. He said he called the telephone operator and she connected him with a doctor.

Erickson said that he was sleeping at the Lundgren home that night and went with Lundgren and Mrs. Johnson back to the Johnson home.

"We found Mrs. Zodrow lying in the shed with Sauge using a rag to stop the flow of blood. She mumbled something but we could not make out what she said. We then carried her into the house and I put a tourniquet on her leg," Erickson said.

The two young men told of seeing

London, May 22.—(U.P.)—A dispatch to Lloyd's today said 100 persons were believed to have perished on the Fabre's line's (French) steamship Asia which caught fire while transporting 1,500 Moslem pilgrims from Jeddah and Mecca to Jibouti, on the Gulf of Aden.

The Lloyd's dispatches from Sudan said the steamer was abandoned and still burning in Jeddah harbor.

The fire was said to be beyond control and it was impossible to approach the ship.

Paris, May 22.—(U.P.)—The Fabre line officers at Marseilles were advised today that the liner, Asia, caught fire in the Red Sea while transporting 1,500 Moslem pilgrims from Jeddah and Mecca to Jibouti, a port on the Gulf of Aden.

Complete information was lacking, but it was learned that all the passengers and crew were removed safely.

Advices reaching the owners merely stated that the ship was afire, and that all aboard had been removed. They did not say whether the fire was extinguished.

A trail of blood leading from the shed of the Johnson home to the house next door.

Chief Ridley said he received a call about 2 A. M. that he went to the Johnson home where he questioned those there.

"Did you search the defendant?" County Attorney Sullivan questioned. "Yes, but I did not find anything but cigarettes and matches," Ridley replied.

Sullivan—"Did you look around the house for a knife or weapon?"

Ridley—"Yes, but I did not find any."

Ridley admitted on cross-examination that he had looked several times for the knife alleged to have been used but was unable to find it. He stated that he placed Sauge under arrest at 3 A. M. and that the afternoon of the same day Sauge made his confession.

Officer Swanson testified that Sauge told him at the Johnson home that one of two fellows threw something at Kathryn Zodrow and that he picked her up then and carried her into the shed.

"He repeated several times, 'I didn't do it,'" Swanson said on cross-examination.

Sauge's confession made on March 27, the day of the death of Mrs. Zodrow, was entered by County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan this morning as an exhibit over the objections of defense (Continued on Page 9)

CAMPAIGNSATYAGRAHIS WAR COUNCIL
SUSPENDS OPERATIONS FOR TWO DAYS

By FRANCIS LOW

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Bombay, May 22.—The British government sent its military forces to the base of the passive resistance campaign today, evacuating the Satyagrahis from their camp near the Dharasana salt works and occupying Dharasana itself.

As a result of the newest move on the part of British authorities in India, the Satyagrahis war council decided immediately to suspend its operations for two days.

The occupied camp was located at Dugri, three miles from Dharasana. It and the camp at Untadi had been the center of passive resistance activity for many days, and from them the mass raid on the Dharasana salt pans was made yesterday.

The national congress leaders previously declared their intention of making the Dharasana salt works the focal point of their campaign for Indian independence, and each of the campaign's leaders from Mahatma Gandhi to Vallabhai Patel, the present leader, have concentrated their efforts there.

After the raid yesterday, in which more than a hundred were injured and many prisoners taken, including Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, Patel's predecessor, the British government ordered troops to Dharasana to prevent a recurrence of disorders. With the arrival of the troops, military orders were extended to include evacuation of the reserve camp.

The troops sent to Dharasana were composed of both British and native detachments. They took possession of all the main highways leading from Dharasana and Untadi, and halted all traffic.

Police also warned the volunteers at the Untadi camp to evacuate, and when they refused, they were forcibly removed.

A Sikh regiment at Baroda was picketing all roads leading from there to Dharasana and Untadi, as well as the railway crossing.

It was understood that Mrs. Naidu and other volunteers being held prisoners at Dharasana would be removed from that city shortly.

COMMON SCHOOL
AID APPORTIONED

St. Paul, May 22.—(U.P.)—State Auditor Ray P. Chase today mailed $50,000 in warrants to counties receiving common school aid this year. Annually $50,000 is distributed among counties in which there is tax-free state land. The payments amount to 2.55 cents per acre this year.

Koochiching county received $19,450.34—the largest amount. St. Louis county was second with $10,639.46. Polk county received $2,044, which is divided between two districts.

NEARING END
OF ITS FLIGHT
OF 3650 MILESDELAYED BY STORM, WILL HALT
AT PERNAMBUCO TO
REFUELHEADWINDS LOWER SPEED, AT
TIMES AVERAGING LESS THAN
50 MILES AN HOUR

Fernando Noronha Island, May 22.—(U.P.)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin was sighted at 1:26 P. M. (9:28 A. M. CST) coming from the north as she approached Brazil at the end of a flight of 3,650 miles from Seville.

The dirigible was first seen far out from the island.

Dr. Hugo Eckener was scheduled to proceed directly to the Brazilian coast, which is less than 150 miles from these islands. The nearest coastal point is Natal, with Pernambuco, where the dirigible will halt overnight some 300 miles from Fernando Noronha.

When the Graf Zeppelin crossed the equator the traditional ceremonies of King Neptune's court were carried out for the first time on an airship. An officer of the dirigible acted as King Neptune and "baptized" the passengers who had never crossed the equator before. Dr. Hugo Eckener also was an initiate.

A message from the dirigible, intercepted here, said:

"We arriving Recife (Pernambuco) today, refueling there and continuing to Rio de Janeiro. Will return following day to Recife and leave for United States Sunday morning. Regular Neptune ceremonies carried out over equator. Officer Batheiser acting as King Neptune baptized nearly all passengers and Dr. Eckener amid great merriment."

The commander of the Graf Zeppelin sent a radio message to his engineer, Ernest Besch, who has been here preparing for the arrival of the ship, which said:

"Have all prepared for landing at 6 P. M. Get ready to refuel. Need 6,000 cubic meters each kind of gas."

Pernambuco (Recife), Brazil, May 22.—The Graf Zeppelin informed the Giquia airdrome today that it would arrive here between 4 P. M. and 6 P. M. (1 P. M. and 3 P. M. CST.)

The dirigible was delayed by a storm, the message said, and will halt here to refuel.

The Montes Grande radio station at Buenos Aires, Argentina, communicated with the dirigible at 8:30 P. M. CST, and at that hour the ship was well within 1,000 miles of its destination traveling without difficulty toward the equator. The position at that hour was half way between the Cape Verde Islands and Pernambuco.

Head winds, and the failure of the trade winds to aid the Graf Zeppelin as Dr. Eckener expected, lowered the speed of the ship, and officials of the Condor Aviation Company, the dirigible's South American agents, estimated it was averaging scarcely 50 miles an hour.

The slow progress of the ship is depleting the fuel supply, and it was believed Dr. Eckener would alter his original plans and halt here for refueling before proceeding.

Natal, a few miles north, where the Graf Zeppelin probably would first touch land, reported rain last night, with no prospects of an immediate abatement.

Dr. Eckener was particularly annoyed by the action of the trade winds on which he had relied implicitly.

"All well except trade winds, which seem to be suffering from old age," he radioed once yesterday.

The dirigible, which had passed the Canary Islands shortly before midnight Tuesday, sighted land again at 12:16 P. M. EST yesterday when it reached the Cape Verde Islands.

A few minutes later the citizens of the little town of Praia were given one of their greatest thrills. The great gray bag of the Zeppelin appeared slowly over Brown Hill beneath the gleam of a bright sun. Flying at an altitude of 500 feet, the ship sailed directly over the post office, and dropped a parachute to which was fastened four sacks of mail.

Atlanta, Ga., May 22.—(U.P.)—Six alleged communists, charged with disorderly conduct, because they held a mass meeting here last night, at which "industrial oppression" was denounced, were held without bond today.

The arrests were made on orders of Assistant Solicitor John Hudson of Fulton county.

Two of those held were negroes.

Minneapolis, May 22.—(U.P.)—Five Canadians today related how their automobile overturned three times yesterday near Little Falls. The group which was enroute from Brandon, Manitoba, to Chicago arrived here last night by bus.

The group included Fred Rogers, 32; his 25-year-old wife; Lorraine, 7, their daughter; Anne Hopkins, 20, Mrs. Rogers' sister, and Ernest Leib, 22.

Sullivan—"Did you look around the house for a knife or weapon?"

Ridley—"Yes, but I did not find any."

Ridley admitted on cross-examination that he had looked several times for the knife alleged to have been used but was unable to find it. He stated that he placed Sauge under arrest at 3 A. M. and that the afternoon of the same day Sauge made his confession.

Officer Swanson testified that Sauge told him at the Johnson home that one of two fellows threw something at Kathryn Zedrow and that he picked her up then and carried her into the shed.

"He repeated several times, 'I didn't do it,'" Swanson said on cross-examination.

Sauge's confession made on March 27, the day of the death of Mrs. Zedrow, was entered by County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan this morning as an exhibit over the objections of defense (Continued on Page 9)

The state presented five witnesses this morning: Sheriff Claus Theorin, Mrs. Cora Dougherty, Fred Haskamp, chief of police of Crosby, and Walter Zedrow.

The evidence was chiefly introduced as a foundation to the presentation of the confession.

The Zedrow boy told of the defendant sleeping in the kitchen of their home three or four times last fall while his father was serving sentence in the county jail for sale of liquor.

On cross-examination Walter stated that Sauge had come to his house on several occasions while his father was home also. He said his father came home from jail on January 7 of this year and when questioned as to whether he knew the employment of his father, he said he did not.

State witnesses late yesterday afternoon included Severn Koop, undertaker at Crosby, A. H. Humble, deputy coroner, William Lundgren, Arthur Erickson, George Ridley, chief of police at Ironton, and Officer Emil Swanson of Ironton.

Lundgren who said he lived near the Ed Johnson home where Mrs. Zedrow died, testified that Mrs. Johnson came running to his house and requested that he call a doctor. He said he called the telephone operator and she connected him with a doctor.

Erickson said that he was sleeping at the Lundgren home that night and went with Lundgren and Mrs. Johnson back to the Johnson home.

"We found Mrs. Zedrow lying in the shed with Sauge using a rag to stop the flow of blood. She mumbled something but we could not make out what she said. We then carried her into the house and I put a tourniquet on her leg," Erickson said.

BURNING LINER *

London, May 22.—(U.P.)—A dispatch to Lloyd's today said 100 persons were believed to have perished on the Fabre's line's (French) steamship Asia which caught fire while transporting 1,500 Moslem pilgrims from Jeddah and Mecca to Jibouti, on the Gulf of Aden.

The Lloyd's dispatches from Sudan said the steamer was abandoned and still burning in Jeddah harbor.

The fire was said to be beyond control and it was impossible to approach the ship.

Paris, May 22.—(U.P.)—The Fabre line officers at Marseilles were advised today that its liner, Asia, caught fire in the Red Sea while transporting 1,500 Moslem pilgrims from Jeddah and Mecca to Jibouti, a port on the Gulf of Aden.

Complete information was lacking, but it was learned that all the passengers and crew were removed safely.

Advices reaching the owners merely stated that the ship was afire, and that all aboard had been removed. They did not say whether the fire was extinguished.

A trail of blood leading from the shed of the Johnson home to the house next door.

Chief Ridley said he received a call about 2 A. M. that he went to the Johnson home where he questioned those there.

"Did you search the defendant?" County Attorney Sullivan questioned.

"Yes, but I did not find anything but cigarettes and matches," Ridley replied.

DULUTH AIRPORT *

Duluth, Minn., May 22.—(U.P.)—J. Warren Smith, Wausau, Wis., flier whose plane crashed late yesterday into a swamp near the municipal airport, today suffered two fractured legs and internal injuries.

Smith had been demonstrating the plane over the airport when it went into a nose dive at 150 feet and crashed. The ship was wrecked completely.

Doctors at the hospital today said Smith's chances for recovery had improved considerably over the night.

* BRITISH SEND MILITARY FORCES
TO SALT DEPOT  AIM TO COPE WITH INDIA'S PAS-SIVE RESISTANCE
CAMPAIGN  SATAGRAHIS WAR COUNCIL
SUSPENDS OPERATIONS FOR TWO DAYS *By FRANCIS LOW
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Bombay, May 22.—The British government sent its military forces to the base of the passive resistance campaign today, evacuating the Satagrahis from their camp near the Dharasana salt works and occupying Dharasana itself.

As a result of the newest move on the part of British authorities in India, the Satagrahis war council decided immediately to suspend its operations for two days.

The occupied camp was located at Dunri, three miles from Dharasana, and the camp at Untadi had been the center of passive resistance activity for many days, and from them the mass raid on the Dharasana salt pans was made yesterday.

The national congress leaders previously declared their intention of making the Dharasana salt works the focal point of their campaign for Indian independence, and each of the campaign's leaders from Mahatma Gandhi to Vallabhai Patel, the present leader, have concentrated their efforts there.

After the raid yesterday, in which more than a hundred were injured and many prisoners taken, including Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, Patel's predecessor, the British government ordered troops to Dharasana to prevent a recurrence of disorders. With the arrival of the troops, military orders were extended to include evacuation of the reserve camp.

The troops sent to Dharasana were composed of both British and native detachments. They took possession of all the main highways leading from Dharasana and Untadi, and halted all traffic.

Police also warned the volunteers at the Untadi camp to evacuate, and when they refused, they were forcibly removed.

A Sikh regiment at Baroda was picketing all roads leading from there to Dharasana and Untadi, as well as the railway crossing.

It was understood that Mrs. Naidu and other volunteers being held prisoners at Dharasana would be removed from that city shortly.

* COMMON SCHOOL AID APPORTIONED *

St. Paul, May 22.—(U.P.)—State Auditor Ray P. Chase today mailed $50,000 in warrants to counties receiving common school aid this year. Annually $50,000 is distributed among counties in which there is tax-free state land. The payments amount to 2.55 cents per acre this year.

Koochiching county received $19,450.24—the largest amount. St. Louis county was second with $10,639.46. Polk county received $2,04, which is divided between two districts.

* BUNDLIE TAKES OATH OF OFFICE *

St. Paul, May 22.—(U.P.)—Waiting until the last day allowed under the city charter, Mayor-elect Gerhart J. Bundlie today took the formal oath of office. He will take office on June 3.

Mrs. Bundlie accompanied the mayor-elect to the office of D. W. Birdsall, city clerk, where the oath was administered. After the ceremony, a number of city employees were introduced and then the couple left.

* Authorizes Transfer of N. E. Brainerd Bus Line *

St. Paul, May 22.—(U.P.)—The state railroad and warehouse commission today authorized transfer of a permit of the Northeast Brainerd bus line held jointly by Carl Walblom and James D. Menzies to Menzies.

* NEARING END
OF ITS FLIGHT
OF 3650 MILES  DELAYED BY STORM, WILL HALT
AT PERNAMBUCO TO
REFUEL  HEADWINDS LOWER SPEED, AT
TIMES AVERAGING LESS THAN
50 MILES AN HOUR *

Fernando Noronha Island, May 22.—(U.P.)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin was sighted at 1:26 P. M. (9:28 A. M. CST) coming from the north as she approached Brazil at the end of a flight of 3,650 miles from Seville.

The dirigible was first seen far out from the island.

Dr. Hugo Eckener was scheduled to proceed directly to the Brazilian coast, which is less than 150 miles from these islands. The nearest coastal point is Natal, with Pernambuco, where the dirigible will halt overnight some 300 miles from Fernando Noronha.

When the Graf Zeppelin crossed the equator the traditional ceremonies of King Neptune's court were carried out for the first time on an airship.

An officer of the dirigible acted as King Neptune and "baptized" the passengers who had never crossed the equator before. Dr. Hugo Eckener also was an initiate.

A message from the dirigible, intercepted here, said:

"We arriving Recife (Pernambuco) today, refueling there and continuing to Rio De Janeiro. Will return following day to Recife and leave for United States Sunday morning. Regular Neptune ceremonies carried out over equator. Officer Fathelher acting as King Neptune baptized nearly all passengers and Dr. Eckener amid great merriment."

The commander of the Graf Zeppelin sent a radio message to his engineer, Ernest Besch, who has been here preparing for the arrival of the ship, which said:

"Have all prepared for landing at 6 P. M. Get ready to refuel. Need 6,000 cubic meters each kind of gas."

Pernambuco (Recife), Brazil, May 22.—The Graf Zeppelin informed the Giquia airdrome today that it would arrive here between 4 P. M. and 6 P. M. (1 P. M. and 3 P. M. CST.)

The dirigible was delayed by a storm, the message said, and will halt here to refuel.

The Montes Grande radio station at Buenos Aires, Argentina, communicated with the dirigible at 8:30 P. M. CST, and at that hour the ship was well within 1,000 miles of its destination travelling without difficulty towards the equator. The position at that hour was half way between the Cape Verde Islands and Pernambuco.

Head winds, and the failure of the trade winds to aid the Graf Zeppelin as Dr. Eckener expected, lowered the speed of the ship, and officials of the Condor Aviation Company, the dirigible's South American agents, estimated it was averaging scarcely 50 miles an hour.

The slow progress of the ship is depleting the fuel supply, and it was believed Dr. Eckener would alter his original plans and halt here for refueling before proceeding.

Natal, a few miles north, where the Graf Zeppelin probably would first touch land, reported rain last night, with no prospects of an immediate abatement.

Dr. Eckener was particularly annoyed by the action of the trade winds on which he had relied implicitly.

"All well except trade winds, which seem to be suffering from old age," he radioed once yesterday.

The dirigible, which had passed the Canary Islands shortly before midnight Tuesday, sighted land again at 12:16 P. M. EST yesterday when it reached the Cape Verde Islands.

A few minutes later the citizens of the little town of Praia were given one of their greatest thrills. The great gray bag of the Zeppelin appeared slowly over Brown Hill beneath the gleam of a bright sun. Flying at an altitude of 500 feet, the ship sailed directly over the post office, and dropped a parachute to which was fastened four sacks of mail.

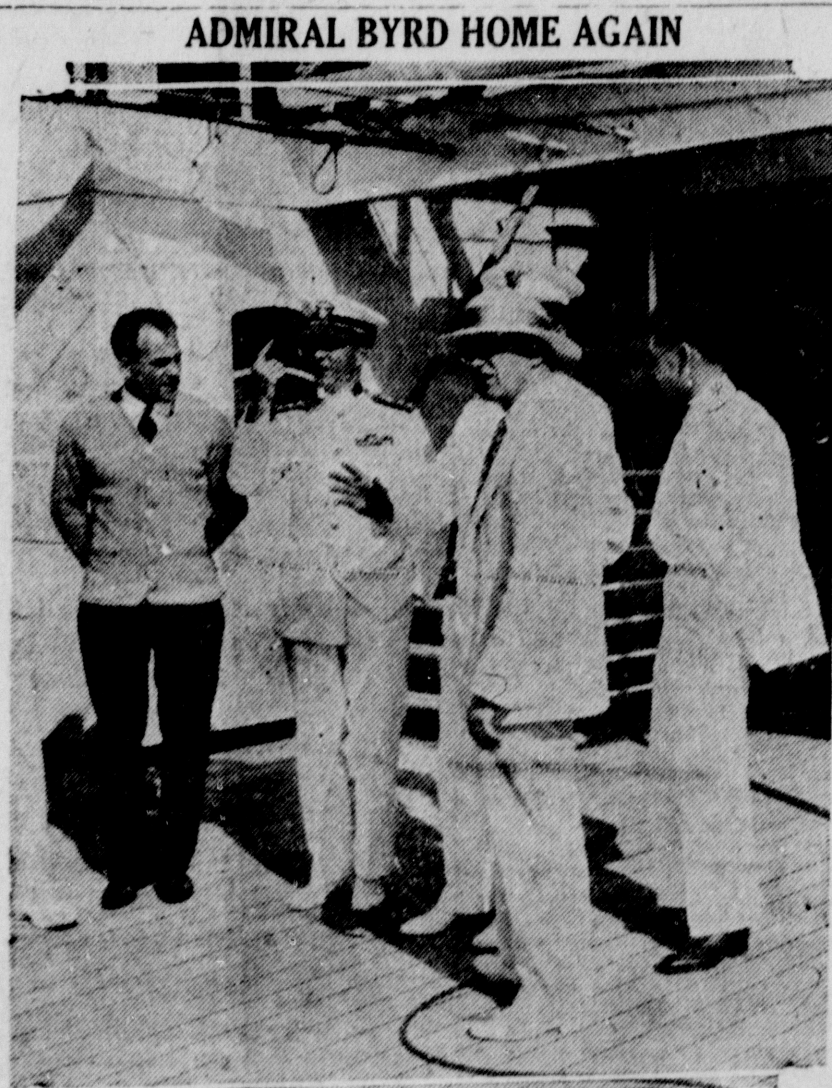

Atlanta, Ga., May 22.—(U.P.)—Six alleged communists, charged with disorderly conduct, because they held a mass meeting here last night, at which "industrial oppression" was denounced, were held without bond today.

The arrests were made on orders of Assistant Solicitor John Hudson of Fulton county.

Two of those held were negroes.

Minneapolis, May 22.—(U.P.)—Five Canadians today related how their automobile overturned three times yesterday near Little Falls. The group which was enroute from Brandon, Manitoba, to Chicago arrived here last night by bus.

The group included Fred Rogers, 32; his 25-year-old wife; Lorraine, 7, their daughter; Anne Hopkins, 20, Mrs. Rogers' sister, and Ernest Leib, 22.

THE KNOT HOLE

Vol. 5 THURSDAY, MAY 22, 1930 No. 9

Are you and your wife and children proud of your home? No need to be ashamed of your home, for it can easily and cheaply be modernized, a bit at a time if need be, and is doubtless worth it. Ask us for the secret.

Youth: "How much for a marriage license?"
Clerk: "Five dollars down and all your salary the rest of your life."

If you want extra wear out of your new roof, say these two words when you come to buy—MULE-HIDE.

Going to get married in June? Planned the kind of a home for the bride that she will appreciate? We have helped more couples than a few to realize their dream of "Home Sweet Home."

A cool, attractive porch has saved many a nice girl from dying an old maid. Provide the young folks a nice place to court.

An ordinary covered box, lined with Mule-Hide Saturated paper, will insure against moths the winter clothes laid away for the summer. The same material also makes a splendid mat under rugs. The price is little.

There is honestly made roofing and dishonestly made roofing, and the surfacing may render it hard for you to tell the two apart. You need the help of an expert on whom you can rely. We can show you how to discern the difference—it is part of our business to know.

HOW DYE FEEL?
"Corkin'," said the bottle.
"Rotten," said the apple.
"Punk," said the firecracker.
"Fine," said the judge.
"First rate," said the postmaster.
"Grand," said the piano.
"Bipping," said the trousers.
"Juicy," said the orange.
"All done up," said the shirt.

THURSDAY, MAY 22, 1930

No. 9

Are you and your wife and children proud of your home? No need to be ashamed of your home, for it can easily and cheaply be modernized, a bit at a time if need be, and is doubtless worth it. Ask us for the secret.

Youth: "How much for a marriage license?"
Clerk: "Five dollars down and all your salary the rest of your life."

If you want extra wear out of your new roof, say these two words when you come to buy—MULE-HIDE.

Going to get married in June? Planed the kind of a home for the bride that she will appreciate? We have helped more couples than a few to realize their dream of "Home Sweet Home."

Remember those hot nights last summer when you could not sleep? Some more are on the way fast. Beat them to it with an out-of-doors sleeping porch from here.

A cool, attractive porch has saved many a nice girl from dying an old maid. Provide the young folks a nice place to court.

An ordinary covered box, lined with Mule-Hide Saturated paper, will insure against moths laid away for the summer. The same material also makes a splendid mat under rugs. The price is little.

There is honestly made roofing and dishonestly made roofing, and the surfacing may render it hard for you to tell the two apart. You need the help of an expert on whom you can rely. We can show you how to discern the difference—it is part of our business to know.

HOW D'YE FEEL?
"Corkin'," said the bottle.

"Rotten," said the apple.

"Punk," said the firecracker.

"Fine," said the judge.

"First rate," said the postmaster.

"Grand," said the piano.

"Ripping," said the trousers.

"Juicy," said the orange.

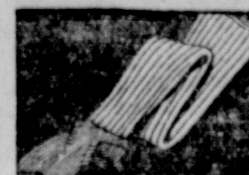

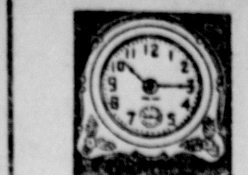

"All done up," said the shirt.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT HEADQUARTERS

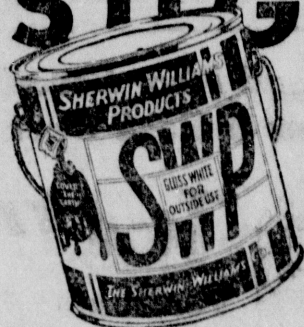

Let cold figures prove the economy of SWP

Here are facts on painting, which we can prove by the simplest arithmetic. SWP is the most economical paint you can put on your house. It costs more per gallon, of course. But did you ever stop to think of how much extra surface a gallon of SWP covers? Mark this—a gallon of SWP will thoroughly cover almost twice as much surface as cheaper paint. Therefore far fewer gallons of SWP are needed. In addition, SWP lasts twice as long as cheaper paint—saves repair bills by giving full protection to the surface—and its rich, weather-proof colors retain their beauty to the end. Come in and let our figures prove it.

Specify SWP and engage a good painter

The TORRID ZONE STEEL FURNACE is gas-tight and dust-tight because it is riveted

WINTER can be a steady succession of wholesome "June days" in any home that's heated by a Torrid Zone Warm Air Furnace of boiler-plate steel. In coldest weather, when windows are tightly closed... even after this furnace is refueled or stirred up... the air will be fresh and clean.

For just as the steel gas-tank is made gas-tight by being hot-riveted and cold-calked... so the Torrid Zone Furnace is made gas, smoke and dust-tight.

Furthermore, the furnace that allows more than a minimum of coal-gas to escape up the chimney or into the house is downright wasteful. There's heat energy in coal-gas... heat energy that the Torrid Zone fire-pot through better combustion turns into clean, healthful heat. That's one reason why a Torrid Zone saves the coal pile as well as the curtains, walls and ceilings. It is designed to heat with from 10% to 20% less fuel than ordinary furnaces. Pick your favorite fuel... soft coal, coke, hard coal, lignite, wood, gas or oil... and get more clean, healthful, economical warmth from it than you ever have before.

LENNOX Torrid Zone STEEL FURNACES

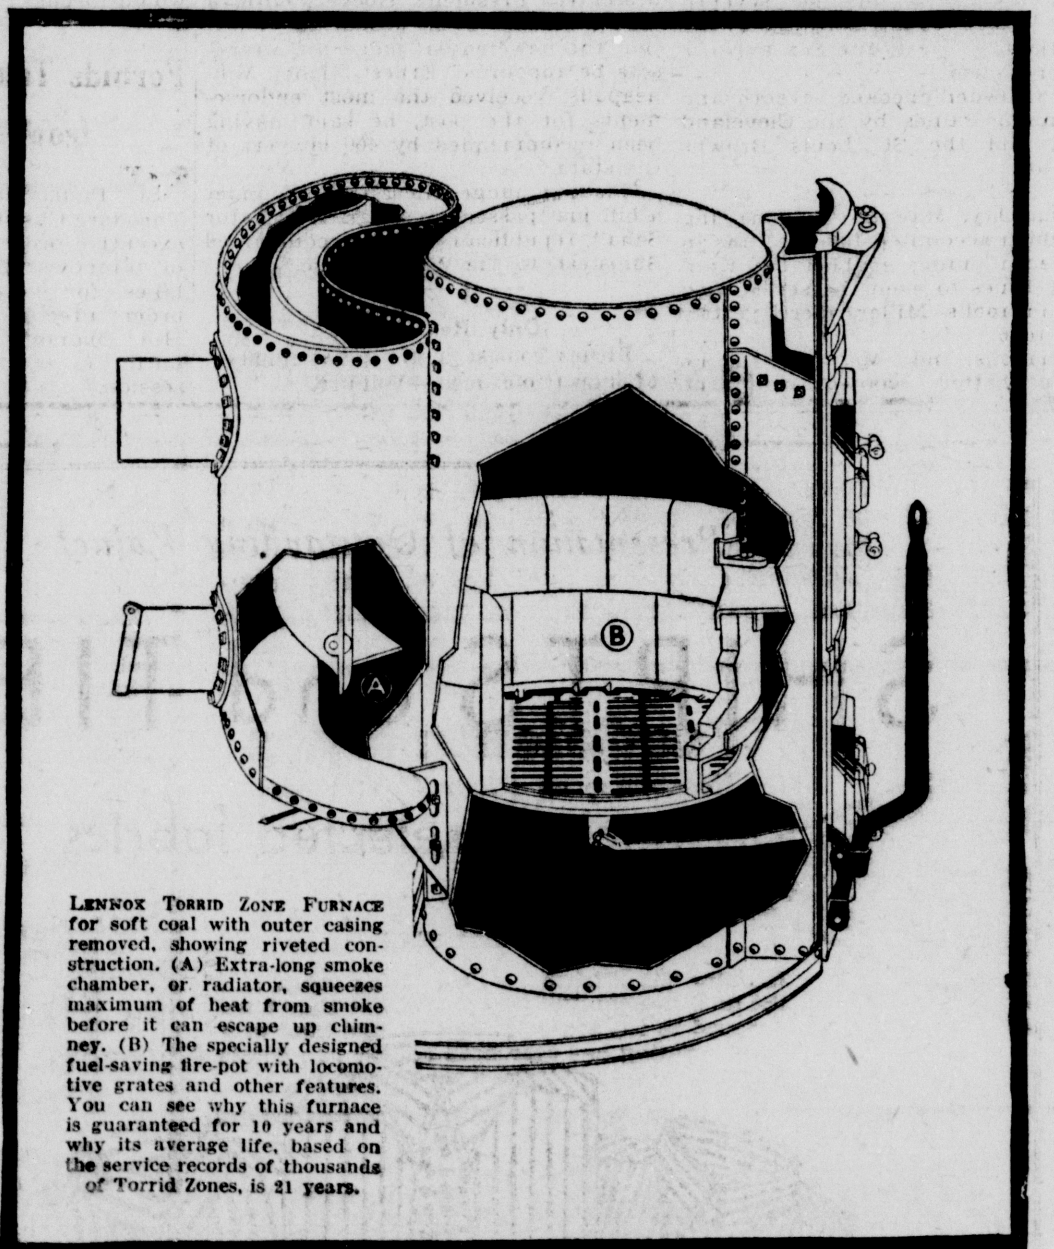

The Standard Code for installing a warm air heater, adopted by the National Warm Air Heating Association and written by its research engineers, is our code.

LENNOX TORRID ZONE FURNACE for soft coal with outer casing removed, showing riveted construction. (A) Extra-long smoke chamber, or radiator, squeezes maximum of heat from smoke before it can escape up chimney. (B) The specially designed fuel-saving fire-pot with locomotive grates and other features. You can see why this furnace is guaranteed for 10 years and why its average life, based on the service records of thousands of Torrid Zones, is 21 years.

Humidity and air circulation figure big in healthful heating. You get them in just the right degree with a Lennox Torrid Zone. You get them because the humidifier has twice the evaporating area inside the casing of ordinary water pans—positioned for rapid evaporation right above the firing doors. And because air circulation is guaranteed when an authorized Lennox Furnace man installs your furnace according to the Standard Code.

Come in and see the furnace, that, because it is the finest that heating science has developed, can add these positive features to home comfort. Let us show you its sturdy locomotive grates, its "lazy" shaker. We have a booklet that describes and illustrates the Torrid Zone in detail that we'll give you. Plans and estimates furnished upon request. Factory blueprints for special problems. Made by the LENNOX FURNACE COMPANY, Syracuse, New York—Marshalltown, Iowa—Toronto, Canada.

PRE-SEASON FORECASTS ARE BEING REVISED

FIVE CLUBS LOOM AS POSSIBLE PENNANT PROSPECTS IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

SENATORS AND INDIANS FURNISH KEEN COMPETITION FOR A'S IN AMERICAN

(By United Press)

Developments of the first six weeks of the major league season have forced a general revision of pre-season prognostications. Five clubs loom as possible pennant prospects in the National League, while the Washington Senators, and Cleveland Indians are furnishing stern competition for the Athletics in the American League.

Philadelphia's Athletics jolted the New York Yankees' hopes of improving their position, during the current seven-game series. Despite Babe Ruth's three home runs in the first game of a double-header, the Athletics took both contests.

A nine-run rally in the seventh enabled the Athletics to take the first game, 15 to 7, and George Walberg turned in a 4 to 1 win in the second game.

Effective pitching by Sam Jones and Ad Liska gave Washington a double victory over the Boston Red Sox, 10 to 2, and 6 to 1.

Dazzy Vance enabled the Brooklyn Robins to hold their half game lead in the National League, beating Boston, 12 to 1. Bureleigh Grimes pitched for the losers and was the victim of four-run attacks in the first, sixth and eighth.

Jakie May's wild pitch gave the second-place St. Louis Cardinals the winning run in their 3 to 2 win over the Cincinnati Reds.

Pittsburgh pounded two Chicago Cubs pitchers for a 10 to 3 win. Cuyler's homer with two on producing the only Chicago runs.

Pat Crawford and Mel Ott led the New York Giants in an 11 to 4 win over Philadelphia. Crawford drove in 4 runs with a homer and a triple. Ott homered with two men on base.

Ted Lyons turned in his seventh victory in eight starts this season, giving the Chicago White Sox a 9 to 3 win over Detroit.

Alvin Crowder checked seventh and ninth inning rallies by the Cleveland Indians and the St. Louis Browns won, 6 to 5.

Kansas City, May 22.—A batting spree which accounted for five runs in the seventh inning enabled the Kansas City Blues to even the series with the Minneapolis Millers here yesterday, 10 to 6.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 22.—Nine Columbus batters scooted over the home plate in the first three innings here yesterday, and the Senators defeated Indianapolis, 11 to 3.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 22.—Jenkins cracked out two home runs and Shea and Bloxom each got one here yesterday as the Milwaukee Brewers took an 11 to 8 victory over St. Paul and evened the series.

Louisville, Ky., May 22.—Louisville batters slugged out 16 hits here yesterday to take the second game of the series from Toledo, 8 to 3.

SENATOR SHIPSTEAD PRESENTS PROSPECTS FOR JUDGESHIP

Washington, May 22.—(U.P.)—Senator Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minn., today presented President Hoover with a list of names from which he asked that the new federal judge for Minnesota be appointed. Ernest Michel, Minneapolis, received the most endorsements for the post, he said, having been recommended by 400 lawyers of the state.

The new judgeship is created under a bill just passed by congress. Senator Schall, republican, Minn., accompanied Shipstead to the White House.

GIFFORD PINCHOT IN 13,000 LEAD OVER F. S. BROWN

CONTESTED IN TUESDAY'S PRIMARY FOR REPUBLICAN NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR

THREE PHILADELPHIA MORNING NEWSPAPERS CONCEDE PINCHOT'S NOMINATION

Philadelphia, May 22.—(U.P.)—Gifford Pinchot today held a lead of slightly more than 13,000 over Francis Shunk Brown in their contest in Tuesday's primary for the republican nomination for governor.

The three Philadelphia morning papers conceded Pinchot's nomination, the Inquirer, which had supported Brown, having announced Pinchot's victory in late editions this morning.

Brown, however, had not conceded his defeat, saying he was in the race until the last vote was counted.

Returns tabulated by the United Press from 8,479 of the state's 8,701 precincts showed the following:

Pinchot—617,443.
Brown—604,342.
Pinchot's plurality—13,101.

The 222 precincts not yet reported embrace 53 in counties where Brown is stronger. The remainder are in Pinchot territory.

Meanwhile, the returns indicated that James J. Davis, secretary of labor, was increasing his plurality over Joseph R. Grundy for the republican nomination for U. S. senator, with Davis already safely nominated. Political experts here foresaw a plurality of 200,000 or more for the labor secretary.

Today Pinchot was designating himself as the "nominee of the republican party."

"The forces of clean government have won," he said. "Every worker for honest government shares the credit and the glory. As nominee of the republican party, I am profoundly grateful."

There was possibility of a demand for a recount, although neither the Pinchot nor the Brown managers would discuss that.

Forbids Taking Minnows from 5 Northern Lakes

St. Paul, May 22.—(U.P.)—Governor Theodore Christianson today issued an executive order forbidding the taking of minnows from five Itasca county lakes, for commercial purposes. The order affecting lakes Hartley, Long, Hill, Diamond and Reiley will stand until the end of the 1931 legislative session.

Ethelind Terry, Former Ziegfeld Star, Proves New Screen "Find"

If she hadn't picked California as a place to take a vacation, Ethelind Terry, star of Ziegfeld's "Rio Rita," would probably never have been in pictures.

"I never had given pictures a thought," the beautiful brunette stated in a recent interview. "I played for six years in but two musical shows, 'Rio Rita' and 'Kid Boots.' Further, I had been offered the star role in the new Ziegfeld show. So you see I had good reason to be contented with the stage."

"But vacation time came. I had been all over Europe and everywhere in America, except the West Coast, so the decision was made to come to California."

"One day, at a club, I was introduced to Directors William Nigh and Harry Beaumont. They told me of the part of Ardis, a musical comedy star, in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new talking picture, 'Lord Byron of Broadway.' I replied, 'But I've only seen one talking picture and I know nothing whatever about them.'"

"Come over and take a test," they said. And I did. I was so thrilled when I heard my voice come off the screen that almost in a haze I signed a long term contract and here I am. Vacation? Well, I had almost a week before the meeting with Mr. Nigh and Mr. Beaumont."

Beautiful, vivacious, possessed of one of the finest voices in the world,

Ethelind Terry is a new face to pictures, but one sure to be heartily welcomed by the playgoers who attend "Lord Byron of Broadway" showing at the Paramount tonight and Friday.

NORTH PRAIRIE

There will be preaching services in the Daggett Brook church next Sunday, May 25 at 3 P. M. Rev. Thomas of Brainerd will be speaker. Sunday school will be at 1:30 on that day.

The Lucky 13 club met with Mrs. Francis Fallon on May 13. Two members were absent. There were several guests present. Mrs. A. F. Claus gave a talk and our county nurse, Miss Walz gave an interesting talk and offered a course in home nursing to all who wished to take it. Many of the members signed up for the course. The first lesson is to be on Wednesday, May 21 at the St. Mathias town hall. There will be no more Home Management lessons until the fall of 1931.

The ladies aid met with Mrs. Andrew Tomberlin Wednesday. There was a good attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson and John and M. Stanley Soderlund spent Sunday at the August Soderlund home. Mrs. Charles Babcock and children spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Harris.

Elmer Peterson and family visited at the John Miller home near Barrows Sunday.

Some of Mrs. Charles Babcock's friends surprised her last Tuesday afternoon when they met at the home of Mrs. L. S. Babcock where she was a guest to tender her a farewell party. There was a large crowd and a good time was had by all. Lunch was served. Mrs. Babcock expects to leave Saturday for Montana where they will make their future home. Mr. Babcock left last week.

Mrs. Sam Harris, Mrs. L. S. Babcock and Mrs. Charles Babcock and children visited with Mrs. Briggs Monday afternoon.

Quick Pile Relief

No Salves or Cutting

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel. Cutting and salves can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds, because it removes this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID tablets are sold by druggists everywhere, have such a wonderful record for quick and lasting relief, that H. P. Dunn and Johnson's Pharmacy always sell them with guarantee of money-back if they do not end all Pile suffering. advt.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Economy Drug Co., Johnson's Pharmacy. advt.

change at the court house Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris visited at the Compton home Sunday evening. The girls of the Garment Making club will meet with their leader, Mrs. Grieson Saturday afternoon.

PLATTE LAKE

Inquiries were made whether the reporter had gone on strike. No, such was not the case. Absence from home for two weeks and lack of time before that are the reasons why no reports were made.

Well, we are glad that the prophecies for another dry spring failed, for while we were gone the whole community and surroundings were blessed with abundant rain, and with the accompanying warm weather now nature is thriving wonderfully.

Rev. Heidtke and family motored to Milwaukee, Wis., leaving May 4. While the family stayed with the wife's folks at Cedarburg, Wis., the pastor attended a conference at Altamont, Ill. They all returned to Brainerd, arriving home Friday night, May 16. A very pleasant trip was enjoyed by all.
Miss Edna Wohl's condition is not improving as expected, and it was deemed best to take her to the hospital in Brainerd for special treatment. We all hope for the best.

We all and particularly the young people who had the work done, feel proud of our newly decorated church. "It simply looks beautiful" has been the general remark by all who have seen the finished job. The work was done by F. H. McCaffrey from Brainerd.

On Wednesday, June 4, the ladies' aid of the Platte Lake church will serve their annual chicken supper. Come and dine with us. You know in advance that it will be good.

Thanks is due unto the following: Mrs. Frederiksen, Mrs. E. Johnson, Mrs. Boeder, and Mrs. F. A. Segler, and also the men-folks who made such a good job of cleaning the church and basement.

The ladies' aid will meet at the parsonage this week Friday. Make it a point to be present.

BRAINERD PINE BEACH HOTEL

Thomas H. Roberts, Son of Arthur L. Roberts, to Manage New Resort Hotel

OPENING EARLY IN JUNE

Makes Announcement at Meeting of Rotary Club and Gives Short Talk

Introduced by R. E. Wyatt, president of the Brainerd-Pine Beach Hotel Corporation, Thomas H. Roberts, a Rotarian of Winona, announced that he will be the manager of the new resort hotel on Lower Gull Lake, and that the opening will be early in June. Mr. Roberts is the son of Arthur L. Roberts, head of the Roberts Hotel system of 22 hotels in several states.

"We are now getting in our hotel furniture," said Mr. Roberts. "Three carloads have been received and two more are expected today. Carpenters, painters and other workmen will conclude their work in five days. We are bringing in experienced crews in our employ to install the furniture and fixtures. We expect to have the hotel ready as close to June 6 as possible.

"The hotel is receiving applications for rooms and two conventions have asked for reservations," said Mr. Roberts. Rates of $6 to $10 per day, American plan, have been announced. Weekly and monthly rates will be established.

Mr. Wyatt told of the work done in the past two years to bring the hotel project to a successful conclusion.

Rev. N. P. Olmsted introduced a new member in Brainerd Rotary, Joseph Schmitt of the Boy Scouts.

Mark M. Buckman, a representative of the 10,000 Lakes-Greater Minnesota association, spoke of the work and aims of the organization. Tourist business in 1935 brought 19,000 visitors to Minnesota. In 13 years this has developed to an annual visitation of 1,000,000 tourists, placing Minnesota third in the list of tourist states and exceeded only by California and Florida. It has been computed that tourists spent $89,000,000 in Minnesota last year. This trade compares favorably as an industry with the corn crop of $81,000,000 and the butter production of $111,000,000.

"The tourist business is competitive, as much as any other business," said Mr. Buckman. "We must tell the people of the world what we have to offer. Last year we added farm land to our recreational work and this year an industrial drive is also being made."

Governor Christianson has designated May 22 as Greater Minnesota Day and is calling on persons to take membership in the 10,000 Lakes-Greater Minnesota Association. Its officers serve without pay. We urge Brainerd to send delegations to attend the meetings and take part in deliberations and work entailed."

"California spent a million in advertising last year, while Minnesota devoted $70,000 to publicity in the same period," said the speaker.

STORE IMPROVEMENTS

Fidelity Store Has Just Completed Redecorating, Re-modeling

Preparatory to their opening event to be held Friday and Saturday, the Fidelity store has just completed redecorating, re-arranging and remodeling their store.

The interior has been attractively painted in gray and red. New counters have been added, the floor space has been enlarged a great deal in order to give more display room, and an elevator has been installed to connect the store on the main floor with the ware room below, all with a view to the convenience and expeditious serving of their customers.

The Fidelity store has been here for over five years. F. E. Janneck is the manager.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks for the many kindnesses shown us during the illness and death of our wife and mother; also for the floral offerings.

BEN S. ARMSTRONG, and family.

'Brainerd Dependable Merchants' Organize

Fourteen Brainerd merchants have formed a newly created group to be known as "Brainerd's Dependable Merchants' Stores," independent home-owned grocers.

EPWORTH RALLY AT M. E. CHURCH

Delegates From Nearby Communities to Participate in Bible Story Contest

Delegates of the Epworth League from Hill City, Aitkin, Deerwood and Crosby are coming to Brainerd tomorrow to attend a sub district rally of the League in the evening at the First M. E. church.

The program will include a 6 o'clock banquet to be followed by a Bible story telling contest in the main auditorium of the church at 8 o'clock.

Rev. W. H. Downing of Eveleth, district president of the League and Rev. Blaine Lambert, superintendent of the Duluth district, will be among the speakers.

RECEPTION FOR PASTOR

Zion Evangelical Church of Northeast Brainerd Greets Rev. and Mrs. W. Thomas

A reception by members of the Zion Evangelical church of N. E. Brainerd was given last evening in the church basement for Rev. W. Thomas and his wife who arrived here from Fairmont to succeed Rev. T. M. Krauss as pastor of the church.

The evening opened with an address of welcome to the pastor and his wife, given by Mrs. E. Haake, to which Rev. Thomas responded in a gracious manner. This was followed by a song by the entire gathering and with scripture reading and prayer. The program included selections by the choir, a musical selection by Mrs. J. Purdy, a reading by Jewel James and followed by a social time.

Refreshments were served by the ladies aid. About 125 attended the reception.

Significant Warning

The winning suggestion in the contest conducted by the executors of C. Harold Smith for a method of "buying happiness for mankind" was that of Prof. Henry E. Garrett of Columbia university. It is as follows: "Stein the rising tide of mental ill health which bids fair to engulf us in the next few generations."

Copper Wire Gang Get Away With 6,000 Lbs. Bell Coil

USE TRUCK TO MAKE ESCAPE FROM NORTH SIDE HOME GARAGE

WIRE VALUED AT OVER $900; WAS
TO HAVE BEEN USED IN STRING
LINE TO PINE BEACH

ROBBERY CAREFULLY PLANNED;
GANG REMOVES WINDOW AND
TAKE WIRE THROUGH DOOR

Working with a truck, a copper wire gang believed to operate from the Twin Cities effected an escape last night with 6,000 pounds of copper in 27 rolls valued at over $900 and stolen from the Henry W. Greener garage at 417 North 9th street.

The copper coil was the property of the Brainerd Exchange of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. and was to be used in stringing a line from Brainerd to the Brainerd-Pine Beach hotel at Gull Lake.

Theft to the coil will delay the work to the resort exchange since it represented the heaviest allotment of copper on hand locally by the company. A rush order was put through immediately today when employees of the company learned of the burglary.

The robbery was carefully planned. Officials of the Bell Company here advanced the theory today that spotters working for the gang had looked over the situation here in advance and had come in the middle of the night to effect it.

The truck loaded with the copper is believed to have sped immediately after the robbery south on Highway No. 27 to the Twin Cities where a ready market can be found for it, it was said.

The robbers made their entry by removing a window and taking the coil through the rear door of the garage. Because of the weight of the copper considerable time would have had to be taken to steal the entire amount of coil stored in the garage.

Private detectives of the Bell Telephone Company will assist local authorities in gathering evidence.

The theft recalls that of others in the northwest and in the Brainerd area.

Last fall six miles of copper coil were stolen from Northwestern Bell wires near Duluth.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

May 22, 1905

Five well known Brainerd people went out to Pelican Lake yesterday and indulged in the seemingly harmless pastime of catching bass, but this morning they felt different for each was fined $10 by Judge J. H. Warner in police court.

C. B. White and a crew of men have gone out to Gull Lake where they will build two cottages for F. B. Lynch of St. Paul. They will also make necessary repairs on the club house and the J. M. Elder cottage.

F. C. Butts swore out a complaint against Walter Bennett this morning charging him with killing two of his dogs. The defendant was found guilty of shooting off a gun within the city limits and was fined $10 which he paid. Mr. Butts claims the dogs were valuable.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Walters left for Minneapolis this afternoon where they will visit for a time. They will go from there to the coast where they will stay until fall and perhaps until spring.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnson and daughter Mabel leave tonight for the coast for a visit. They will go to the Portland exposition and may go as far as San Francisco before returning.

George W. Healey has in his possession a pass which was issued to him during the war. He was at Goldsboro, N. C.

The Brainerd-St. Cloud team lost the last game of the series with Duluth in the game yesterday afternoon by a score of 9 to 7. Except for errors by two players, the team work was all that could be asked for considering the time they have been in the game.

KLAVENESS ADVOCATES REPEAL OF THE 18th AMENDMENT

St. Paul, Minn., May 22.—(UP)—Repeal of the eighteenth amendment and Minnesota's "newspaper gag" law was advocated last night by Dr. Elvind Klaveness, St. Paul, candidate for the republican gubernatorial nomination. Dr. Klaveness, who was former head of the Moderation League of Minnesota, made his keynote address over the radio. His speech was the first to throw the question of prohibition into the contest for governor.

A state income tax, a state system of old age pensions, development of Minnesota highways, and conservation of the state's resources including scenic attractions which bring tourists into the northwest were other phases of his program.

Young Brainerd Sailor Leaving Hampton Roads for California

Friends of Stanley Sandberg now with the U. S. Navy, formerly of Brainerd, will be interested in knowing that he is leaving Hampton Roads, Virginia on May 23 for California. They will stop en route at the canal for a few days.

For the past while he has been on the S. S. "Saratoga" leaving San Pedro, Calif., in January for Panama City and then to Colon where they were about six days. Leaving Colon they sailed to Cauto, Reales Islands west coast of Cuba in the Guacanayaba bay which he stated was the most desolate place he had been. From there they sailed to Barbados British West Indies where they stayed for about ten days, then to Cuba and to Norfolk, Virginia.

He stated he had had a very enjoyable trip, but would be glad to reach California again.

Mr. Sandberg was employed at the Ransford for about two years, prior to his leaving Brainerd three years ago. He is a nephew of Mrs. L. Fisher, 513 Third avenue N. E.

BREEZY POINT TO OPEN ON JUNE 21

Captain W. H. Fawcett Makes Announcement While in Brainerd Yesterday

LANDSCAPE IMPROVEMENTS

Jack Dempsey and Estelle Taylor, Fighter's Wife, to Visit Breezy Point

Captain W. H. Fawcett, well known publisher, sportsman, globe girder and best known to Brainerd people as owner of Breezy Point Lodge, was in the city yesterday and announced the resort would open Saturday, June 21.

The captain is heavily tanned from his hunting experiences in South Africa where he killed lions, a hippopotamus, wildebeeste and other dark continent species. Captain and Mrs. Fawcett traveled extensively throughout Europe after his South African hunt. Trophies of the chase will be given a place of honor in the Fawcett home at Breezy Point.

On his return home he stopped at Washington, D. C., where his daughter is a student at Chevy Chase school. The captain was prevailed upon to tell of his hunting experiences and told the students it required more nerve to face such a group of discerning young people than any number of lions in Africa.

The opening of Breezy Point this season will be signaled by the annual Breezy Point handicap trapshoot. The captain shot at Hibbing last Sunday, scoring third place in the shoot with 192 out of a possible 200 and recording an unfinished run of 74. Kalland of Brainerd shot 190.

The captain will attend the Illinois state shoot under Lincoln Park club auspices May 29, 30, 31 and June 1.

Later in June Captain and Mrs. Fawcett will attend the Sharkey-Schmeling fight. They have two seats at ringside and are guests of Samuel Booth, New York representative of Fawcett's publications. There ringside seats, by the way, are quoted at $50 each.

Dempsey to Visit Breezy Point

Jack Dempsey and his wife, the actress Estelle Taylor, have written Captain Fawcett they will visit Breezy Point in the fall. Writing from the Kahler Hotel in Rochester on May 20, the great fighter said he would be unable to come to the resort early in the season as he must first go to California to attend to business matters. In the fall he will bring with him their mutual friend, Dr. Buie, who operated on the fighter at Rochester.

"We are opening a new place in Ensenade, Mexico, 16 miles below the border on the beach," writes Mr. Dempsey. "It is a wonderful and I hope some time when you are out there I may have the pleasure of showing you a real time."

Other Film Stars Coming

Other film stars to visit Breezy Point are Lupe Velez and Gary Cooper. The latter had a prize contest in Modern Mechanics, one of the Fawcett publications.

Resort Improvements

The resort improvements this spring include $10,000 worth of landscaping, changes at the entrance, and much concrete walks and roadways. Spruce trees are being planted and much shrubbery. A new building housing garage, carpenter and electrical shop is to be located near the power plant.

Golf Links

The golf links are in splendid condition. Herb Crummy will be the pro in charge.

attorney Elmer Kling pertaining to statements regarding the knife.

The confession was accepted and read by Mr. Sullivan to the jury. It follows in its entirety:

The following statement taken at Crosby, Minn., March 27, 1930 in the office of Murphy & Cook, in said village, in the presence of A. J. Sullivan, Claus A. Theorin, George Ridley, Frank Murphy and Albert Humble, Cora A. Dougherty taking the testimony:

Statement of Ole Sogge:

By Mr. Sullivan:

Q. Ole you have a right, of course, to not answer any questions or state anything that you might not want to state here—you have a constitutional right and anything you might state could be used against you, but you want to tell the story just as you told it to them before—you are willing to do that.

A. The same thing.

Q. And it is your own free will without any compulsion or any force having been used, and you make this statement of your own free will understanding that you waive your constitutional rights, and that anything you say can be used against you in a prosecution for the killing of Mrs. Kathryn Zadow.

A. Yes.

Ole Sogge, being first duly sworn by Mr. Sullivan, a Notary Public of Crow Wing County, Minn., using the following oath: to-wit:

You, Ole Sogge, do solemnly swear that the statement that you are about to make relative to the death of Kathryn Zadow shall be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. So Help You God.

A. Yes.

Q. How old are you, Ole.

A. 43.

Q. And you live in Ironton.

A. Yes.

Q. You knew Kathryn Zadow who lived in Ironton.

A. Yes.

Q. And last night about 7:30 you met her at Plutz's store.

A. Yes.

Q. And you had been to Crosby before that.

A. Yes.

Q. And you took her in your car then and she asked you if you would drive her to Ed. Johnson's.

A. Yes.

Q. And then state in your own words what occurred there, Ole.

A. Yes, well, we came over to Johnson's and we were sitting in there about ten minutes and Mrs. Nevala came in—well, we were dancing there a little while playing the phonograph and Mrs. Nevala and Mrs. Zadow they went out.

Q. About what time.

A. It must have been ten o'clock.

A. So, while I was sitting there for awhile and I said to Mrs. Johnson where did Mrs. Zadow go—did she go home. No, she says, she went to Opal.

Q. That is Opal Glenn.

A. Yes.

Q. And you say that Opal Glenn runs a sporting house, is that it.

A. Yes.

Q. Then what happened.

A. Well, then I told Mrs. Johnson I was going home, but she said for me to wait a while so while I was sitting there this Opal came in but not Kathryn, so I said to Opal, where is Kathryn—has she gone home. No, she says, she's out so I went out and went over to my car first and I see a car across the street and there was Mrs. Zadow.

Q. Was she sitting in the back seat.

A. Yes.

Q. And there was a man in the back seat and one in the front seat.

A. Well, there was one outside the car standing—I don't know if he was belonging in the back seat, but anyway I said something to her.

Q. Do you remember what you said.

A. I said I know you was dirty, but I never thought you was so dirty as this.

Q. Did you say something about being a—

A. Yes.

Q. What was that you said, Ole.

A. I said I never thought you was such a big—as you is—then one of the fellows said something if I was her man and I think she said no—I don't know—anyway they got mad at me and I went then when I see they started trouble so I went and I run over to the house.

Q. You were afraid these men would start trouble and you ran towards the house.

A. I run, they threw something, but they missed me so just as I come to the house she was there.

Q. She followed you right over.

A. But I think the way it looked to me she was sticking for me. I thought she said she told one of the fellows I will take care of him. That's the way I think she said so then I and her started in there.

Q. How you mean.

A. I fell down first and then we started in to fight around there and when I got up, that's the time I must have cut her.

Q. Do you remember how you cut her.

A. No. I don't remember how I cut her.

Q. You remember this morning over at the jail you said you got on your knees this way (indicating) and you made a grab at her.

A. It must have been that way.

Q. As she was standing in front of you.

A. Yes.

Q. And then you got up after you had struck at her while on your knees.

A. Well, then she walked over to this other house and then she came back and I seen she was bleeding and I said, you are bleeding, Kathryn. Yes, she said, and I took her in the house, so then—

Q. You took her into the shed.

A. Yes, I didn't know where she was cut so I pulled up her dress and took the bloomer leg off and I see it was full of blood. I tried to stop it, I got hold of it—she didn't seem—she lost—

Q. Consciousness.

A. Yes, Well, then we called the doctor and they couldn't get him for half an hour and I stayed there.

Q. And tried to stop it.

A. Yes.

Q. Well, what did you do with the knife, Ole.

A. I don't know what I did with it.

Q. In the excitement, you probably threw it away, is that it.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember getting it out.

A. No, I don't remember that.

Q. At the time she was mad and you were mad when this fight was going on, is that it.

A. Yes, I wasn't so mad at her. I wasn't mad at her.

Q. Well, what was it.

A. I couldn't exactly tell you what it was.

Q. Were you jealous of her, at all.

A. No. I wasn't jealous. No, there was a fellow come up there—it seems though I had a few drinks. I was, of course, watching him.

Q. These other fellows left in the car, didn't they.

A. I didn't see them when they left.

Q. They didn't leave before the fight started.

A. There was one.

Q. You saw one after the fight started.

A. Yes.

Q. Where was he standing.

A. It seems standing that way (indicating).

Q. Towards the front of the house.

Q. Towards the back of the corner.

Q. Where did the fight take place.

A. Right by the door.

Q. And he was standing off to the east over to the side of the house.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know which one that was.

A. No, I don't know any of them.

May be I would know them, but it was a little dark—I didn't see who it was.

Q. Now, you have known her for quite awhile.

A. I know her be a year ago this spring.

Q. Didn't you know her before that.

A. I know her old man.

Q. But you have been out with her a good deal during the past year.

A. Yes, off and on.

Q. Didn't she use to come to your room.

A. Yes.

Q. And you have given her a lot of money.

A. Yes.

Q. All the money you ever earned.

A. Yes, more than I earned.

Q. Because you got $500 from the old country and she got most of that.

A. Yes.

Q. Did her husband know that you were friendly with her.

A. Yes, he knew it.

Q. Did he ever know that she used to come to your room.

A. That I couldn't say, but the kids knew it, the kids used to come too.

Q. She would stay in your room until—

A. One or two o'clock.

Q. That would be in the morning.

A. Yes.

Q. She would come up sometime in the evening and stay until one or two o'clock in the morning.

A. Come around 7 or 8 o'clock.

Q. What kind of a knife did you have.

A. I had a little pocket knife.

Q. About how big.

A. I don't know.

Q. About three inches.

A. Something like that.

Q. It was a bigger knife than that (indicating).

A. A little bigger.

Q. And it had two blades.

A. Yes.

Q. And it was a brown one.

A. Brown bone handle on it.

Q. Where did you generally carry it, Ole.

A. Most of the time I left it at the mine.

Q. But when you carry it around with you where—

A. In my pants pocket.

Q. And you don't know what you did with the knife.

A. No, I don't. I got excited and to tell the truth, no lies, it is exactly what I told you that happened.

Q. Now, Ole, then to sum it up in the story that you have given here then you admit that last night between twelve and one or 1:30 sometime in there, midnight, that at Ed Johnson's house at Ironton, at the back of the house, that you struck Kathryn Zadow with a knife in her leg and that caused her death, is that right.

A. Yes.

Q. And you don't know what you did with the knife after.

A. No.

"SHEIK'S WIFE" BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER XXXII.

BUT Barton Wade did notice.

He was a big, jovial person and his black eyes, which looked very black indeed because of his white hair, surveyed the slim, eager girl with appreciation. He made her sit beside him on Nory's divan and instead of being stricken dumb with embarrassment as she had feared, she soon found herself laughing with the two men over her experiences as an artist's wife.

"You see, women sort of spoil Ken, Mr. Wade. They think it's all romance, being an artist and he's so good-looking they never dream he's just an ordinary boy who has to be chased with throat-gargle when he smokes too much and gets hives if he eats strawberries. They come in and look at his studio and sigh and want to sit in his chair just a minute."

"And why don't you write all this?" Mr. Wade wanted to know.

"Write it?" Eve asked in a puzzled way. "But it's not what anyone would want to read, is it? Besides, you see I couldn't write, I'm afraid; I'm not a bit artistic—they all tell me this—"

Wade threw back his head and roared. "The trouble with most writers, my dear, is that they're too artistic. Write it by all means just as you're telling it. No frills; that would spoil it. Make a series of articles, half a dozen, and if they're half as good as I think they'll be you've sold them right now."

"But—oh, but Mr. Wade! Ken wouldn't like it a bit—"

"Oh, ho—and how is the young gentleman to know? They'll be anonymous, you understand; we'll sign them 'By An Artist's Wife.' The lure of mystery—what do you say?"

Eve looked from his twinkling eyes to Nory who was nodding his head up and down. "Grab the chance, Eve; not many like this."

"Well—I'll try. It's—oh, you're awfully kind—both of you—"

And this was the way Eve turned author. No one in The Lane save Nory dreamed what she was doing, so carefully did she work in secret but as weeks went along she found more opportunity than she had thought possible at first for Ken was spending most of his time at Spring Garden.

On the first anniversary of their marriage they had planned to go to Lakeview but Ken was hurrying to finish his cover and Eve was absorbed in putting her experiences on paper and minded very little when the plan fell through. Even the pearl and sapphire bracelet Ken gave her in honor of the day made no deep impression for if she were not artistic Eve had the artist's gift of concentration.

And finally she took the first of her articles into the city and gave it to Barton Wade and he shook hands with her and seemed mightily pleased.

And presently "Wade's Weekly" appeared in The Lane and the tribe began to talk about the "Revelations Of An Artist's Wife."

"Amusing," drawled Elma over the "Revelations." "That direct, virile style reminds you of Shaw, don't you think? Of course, it wasn't done by a woman."

Copper Wire Gang Get Away With 6,000 Lbs. Bell Coil

USE TRUCK TO MAKE ESCAPE FROM NORTH SIDE HOME GARAGE

WIRE VALUED AT OVER $900; WAS
TO HAVE BEEN USED IN STRING
LINE TO PINE BEACH

ROBBERY CAREFULLY PLANNED.
GANG REMOVES WINDOW AND
TAKE WIRE THROUGH DOOR

Working with a truck, a copper wire gang believed to operate from the Twin Cities effected an escape last night with 6,000 pounds of copper in 27 rolls valued at over $900 and stolen from the Henry W. Greener garage at 417 North 9th street.

The copper coil was the property of the Brainerd Exchange of the North-western Bell Telephone Co. and was to be used in stringing a line from Brainerd to the Brainerd-Pine Beach hotel at Gull Lake.

Theft to the coil will delay the work to the resort exchange since it represented the heaviest allotment of copper on hand locally by the company. A rush order was put through immediately today when employees of the company learned of the burglary.

The robbery was carefully planned. Officials of the Bell Company here advanced the theory today that spotters working for the gang had looked over the situation here in advance and had come in the middle of the night to effect it.

The truck loaded with the copper is believed to have sped immediately after the robbery south on Highway No. 27 to the Twin Cities where a ready market can be found for it, it was said.

The robbers made their entry by removing a window and taking the coil through the rear door of the garage. Because of the weight of the copper considerable time would have had to be taken to steal the entire amount of coil stored in the garage.

Private detectives of the Bell Telephone Company will assist local authorities in gathering evidence.

The theft recalls that of others in the northwest and in the Brainerd area.

Last fall six miles of copper coil were stolen from Northwestern Bell wires near Duluth.

Q. Do you remember how you cut her.

A. No, I don't remember how I cut her.

Q. You remember this morning over at the jail you said you got up on your knees this way (indicating) and you made a grab at her.

A. It must have been that way.

Q. As she was standing in front of you.

A. Yes.

Q. And then you got up after you had struck at her while on your knees.

A. Well, then she walked over to this other house and then she came back and I seen she was bleeding and I said, you are bleeding, Kathryn. Yes, she said, and I took her in the house, so then—

Q. You took her into the shed.

A. Yes, I didn't know where she was cut so I pulled up her dress and took the bloomer leg off and I see it was full of blood. I tried to stop it, I got hold of it—she didn't seem—she lost—

Q. Consciousness.

A. Yes, Well, then we called the doctor and they couldn't get him for half an hour and I stayed there.

Q. And tried to stop it.

A. Yes.

Q. Well, what did you do with the knife, Ole.

A. I don't know what I did with it.

Q. In the excitement, you probably threw it away, is that it.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember getting it out.

A. No, I don't remember that.

Q. At the time she was mad and you were mad when this fight was going on, is that it.

A. Yes, I wasn't so mad at her. I wasn't mad at her.

Q. Well, what was it.

A. I couldn't exactly tell you what it was.

Q. Were you jealous of her, at all.

A. No, I wasn't jealous. No, there was a fellow come up there—it seems though I had a few drinks. I was, of course, watching him.

Q. These other fellows left in the car, didn't they.

A. I didn't see them when they left.

Q. They didn't leave before the fight started.

A. There was one.

Q. You saw one after the fight started.

A. Yes.

Q. Where was he standing.

A. Yes.

A. It seems standing that way (indicating).

Q. Towards the front of the house.

A. Towards the back of the corner.

Q. Where did the fight take place.

A. Right by the door.

Q. And he was standing off to the east over to the side of the house.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know which one that was.

A. No, I don't know any of them. Maybe I would know them, but it was a little dark—I didn't see who it was.

Q. Now, you have known her for quite awhile.

A. I know her be a year ago this spring.

Q. Didn't you know her before that.

A. I know her old man.

Q. But you have been out with her a good deal during the past year.

A. Yes, off and on.

Q. Didn't she use to come to your room.

A. Yes.

Q. And you have given her a lot of money.

A. Yes.

Q. All the money you ever earned.

A. Yes, more than I earned.

Q. Because you got $500 from the old country and she got most of that.

A. Yes.

Q. Did her husband know that you were friendly with her.

A. Yes, he knew it.

Q. Did he ever know that she used to come to your room.

A. That I couldn't say, but the kids knew it, the kids used to come too.

Q. She would stay in your room until—

A. One or two o'clock.

Q. That would be in the morning.

A. Yes.

Q. She would come up sometime in the evening and stay until one or two o'clock in the morning.

A. Come around 7 or 8 o'clock.

Q. What kind of a knife did you have.

A. I had a little pocket knife.

Q. About how big.

A. I don't know.

Q. About three inches.

A. Something like that.

Q. It was a bigger knife than that (indicating).

A. A little bigger.

Q. And it had two blades.

A. Yes.

Q. And it was a brown one.

A. Brown bone handle on it.

Q. Where did you generally carry it, Ole.

A. In my pants pocket.

Q. But when you carry it around with you where—

A. In my pants pocket.

Q. And you don't know what you did with the knife.

A. No, I don't. I got excited and to tell the truth, no lies, it is exactly what I told you that happened.

Q. Now, Ole, then to sum it up in the story that you have given here

A. Most of the time I left it at the mine.

Q. But when you carry it around with you where—

A. In my pants pocket.

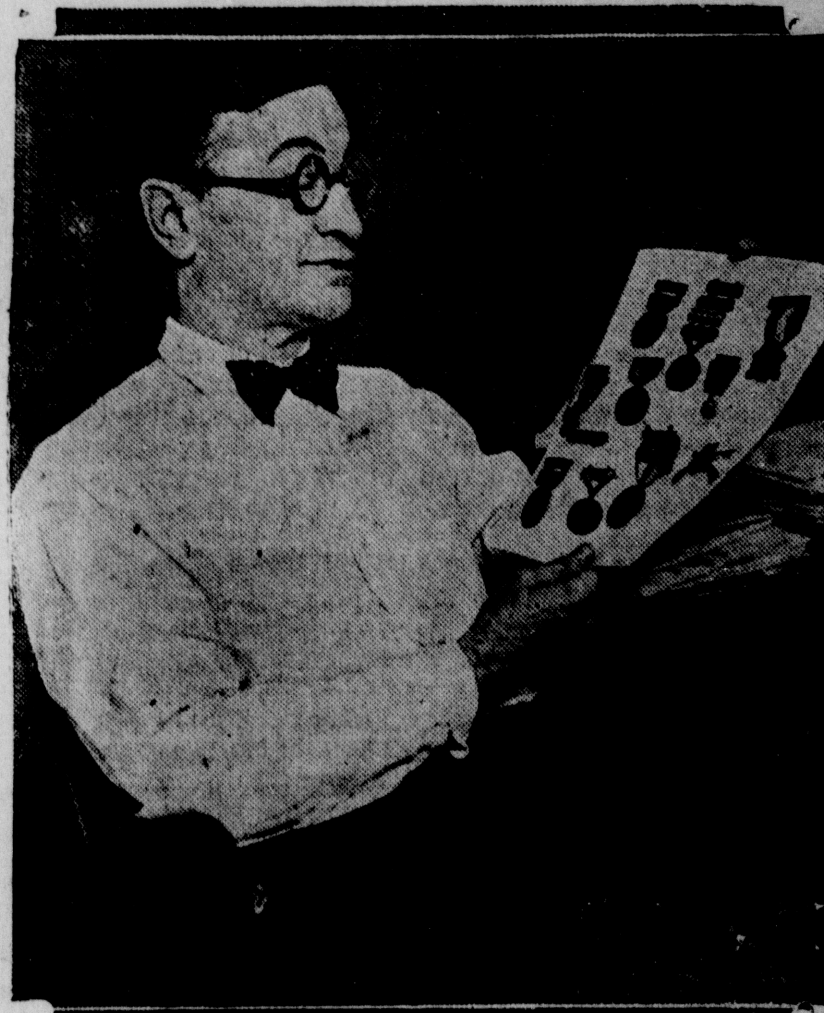

Q. And you don't know what you did with the knife.

A. No, I don't. I got excited and to tell the truth, no lies, it is exactly what I told you that happened.

Q. Now, Ole, then to sum it up in the story that you have given here

A. No.

"SHEIK'S WIFE" BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER XXXII.

BUT Barton Wade noticed.

He was a big, jovial person and his black eyes, which looked very black indeed because of his white hair, surveyed the slim, eager girl with appreciation.

He made her sit beside him on Nory's divan and instead of being stricken dumb with embarrassment as she had feared, she soon found herself laughing with the two men over her experiences as an artist's wife.

"You see, women sort of spoil Ken, Mr. Wade. They think it's all romance, being an artist and he's so good-looking they never dream he's just an ordinary boy who has to be chased with throat-gargle when he smokes too much and gets hives if he eats strawberries. They come in and look at his studio and sigh and want to sit in his chair just a minute."

"And why don't you write all this?" Mr. Wade wanted to know. "Write it?" Eve asked in a puzzled way. "But it's not—what anyone would want to read, is it? Besides, you see I couldn't write, I'm afraid; I'm not a bit artistic—they all tell me this—"

Wade threw back his head and roared. "The trouble with most writers, my dear, is that they're too artistic. Write it by all means just as you're telling it. No frills; that would spoil it. Make a series of articles, half a dozen, and if they're half as good as I think they'll be you've sold them right now."

"But—oh, but Mr. Wade! Ken wouldn't like it a bit—"

"Oh, ho—how is the young gentleman to know? They'll be anonymous, you understand; we'll sign them 'By An Artist's Wife.' The lure of mystery—what do you say?"

Eve looked from his twinkling eyes to Nory who was nodding his head up and down. "Grab the chance, Eve; not many like this—"

"Well—I'll try. It's—oh, you're awfully kind—both of you—"

And this was the way Eve turned author. No one in The Lane save Nory dreamed what she was doing, so carefully did she work in secret but as weeks went along she found more opportunity than she had thought possible at first for Ken was spending most of his time at Spring Garden.

On the first anniversary of their marriage they had planned to go to Lakeview but Ken was hurried to finish his cover and Eve was absorbed in putting her experiences on paper and minded very little when the plan fell through. Even the pearl and sapphire bracelet Ken gave her in honor of the day made no deep impression for if she were not artistic Eve had the artist's gift of concentration.

And finally she took the first of her articles into the city and gave it to Barton Wade and he shook hands with her and seemed mightily pleased.

Again Making History

THE Graf Zeppelin, huge German dirigible, again make history as it winged its way across the South Atlantic. Everything was carried out like methodical German clockwork which leaves nothing to chance.

It again calls to mind the part that meteorological conditions play in any such flight. The Germans for years have made a study of weather conditions. Dr. Hugo Eckener can spot a weather change in the offing hours in advance and bears a great reputation as a weather shark among the oldest sailors of the ocean lanes. On the first day's flight of the Zeppelin's South American voyage, it will be remembered he sidestepped a brewing storm near Gibraltar.

Dr. Eckener showed his ability as a pilot and sailor in the reaches of the upper air when he fought terrific storms on the Pacific. That ocean bears a mild name but its storms are of the intense, temperamental kind, breathing a typhoon one hour and flooding sunshine later. Just as Napoleon used to attack the center when his ends were wobbling, so Dr. Hugo Eckener slices through the center of a weather ruction when there is no chance to skirt the ends.

Weather studies made by Rear Admiral Byrd at the South Pole and observations taken at the North Pole will all aid in our study of the weather. Just as gold miners were ever seeking the source of the mother lode, so weather experts are seeking the start of weather disturbances.

When the time comes that floating landing fields can be established in the Atlantic, marking the air route, the weather stations there assembled will flash weather reports to the United States and Europe, facilitating air as well as ship travel.

The Athletic Banquet

THE boys and girls, faculty and guests assembled at the athletic banquet at the high school Tuesday night were quite pleased with the way it was conducted.

In the first place, before the regular program was started, there was every opportunity for conversation and for noise. At home Pa and Ma would have "shushed" their hopefuls to keep quiet, but here at the banquet was freedom, pure and unrestrained.

And talk about the eats! Miss Bertha Filk, home economics teacher, knows just how many calories and vitamins it takes to fill up a Brainerd athlete, boy and girl friend. She set a table like an old-fashioned boarding house or a farm house dinner on Thanksgiving day where you eat until you can't move your jaws any more.

The talks given were that spontaneous kind which well right up from the heart.

The company fit in rather snugly in the hall used as a banquet room. There was wisdom in Miss Filk's choice of slender and very young waiters. Had they been heavies they would never have been able to get through the narrow lanes.

Tourists Coming

TOURISTS are coming to Brainerd and not awaiting the official opening of any certain resort or hotel. Cement highways completed throughout Iowa and other states now give the southern tourists an almost clear run into the Brainerd Lake Region.

Tuesday a large party of tourists from Kansas City, Mo., were looking for lake resort hotel accommodations. The lure of pike fishing has brought many to town and stores are busy outfitting the fisherman with everything he needs.

Good catches are being reported from other lakes besides Mille Lacs lake. Mille Lacs, 30 miles square, is easily the kingpin in early fishing, but other lakes come to their honors as the season advances.

More About End Platforms

OTHER examples are being recalled in Brainerd of the trouble caused by the lack of an "end platform" in the freight yards of the railway for unloading shipments from ends of flatcars. Brainerd has never had such an "end platform," although the railway has seen fit to provide Aitkin, Crosby and Little Falls with such conveniences for shippers.

Three years ago Pat Roark, prominent road contractor, shipped a steam shovel to Brainerd. This is part of his road equipment machinery. Roark was unable to unload at Brainerd because there was no "end platform" and had to ship his steam shovel to Aitkin so he could unload it.

India's Unarmed Attacks

THE unarmed attacks of the Indian "passive resisters" may gain more results as the movement grows.

Should the independence movement ever grip the whole domain, then an unarmed resistance movement will resemble the periodical trek of the lemming of Europe. These little animals start a pilgrimage to the ocean and go in a straight line, swimming lakes and streams in their path, climbing mountains and hills, and are undeterred by fire, smoke or weather conditions. Mariners have reported the animals swimming far out to sea, still continuing their straight line course.

No Thin Men in the Woods

REFERRING to the cuisine of the pioneer woodsmen around Brainerd, mention of which was made a few days ago, old timers have brought out another point of interest and that is the fact that there were few, if any, skinny lumberjacks.

The satisfying fare of the woods, the hard work bringing into play all muscles, the steady routine, healthful conditions, all tended to bring on weight and strength. There were no office men or white collar jobs. Even the employees of the cook shanty had to hustle and do a man's work to feed the hungry crews.

LIFE is just one thing after another, one problem after another. And life, when realistically portrayed on screen, in talkies in fiction, sometimes fails to possess any interest. We remember a case in legitimate drama, where a family row was so faithfully portrayed that a man of the audience regretted paying $2 for a seat, saying such a fight could be produced for nothing in many home.

CAPTAINS NAMED IN B. H. S. SPORT

NATHAN SCHUETY TO LEAD HIS TEAM; HE AND E. FOSTER CAPTAIN TRACK, FIELD

Nathan Schuety, junior, will captain next year's basketball team while Elmer Foster and Schuety will be co-captains in the track and field events of the Brainerd high school as approved by the school through election.

Foster will captain the field events while Schuety will captain the track men. These two are considered a very good combination.

HOME TEAM BETTER THAN EXPECTED FOR SUCH SHORT NOTICE

TEAMS WILL OFFICIALLY OPEN BASEBALL SEASON HERE; "CY" OLSON TO PITCH

CHICAGO GLOBE TROTTERS ARE MADE UP ENTIRELY OF SOUTHERN TEAM STARS

Brainerd will get its first look of the season at baseball Saturday.

And the fans will see in the home town aggregation a team better than should be expected for such short notice of the season's opening.

Daily workouts at the N. P. ball park at the fill have resulted in bringing the team around to the shape where they will give plenty of competition to the hard hitting and clever fielding Chicago Globe Trotters who will stop here enroute for a series in western Canada.

The game will be played at the N. P. park and will start at 3 P. M. "Cy" Olson, whose benders fooled even the veteran House of David squad last year, will handle the mound duty for Brainerd.

Olson has pitched two games this season, winning both of them and getting 36 strikeouts.

The Globe Trotters are composed of stars who formerly played with the Texas Giants and other colored southern teams of note.

BABE RUTH CONTINUES HIS BATTING SPREE

Philadelphia, May 22.—(U.P.)—Babe Ruth continued his home run batting spree today when he hit two home runs in consecutive turns at bat in the first game of the double-header with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Ruth scored his tenth homer of the season in the third inning, with none on base, and hit his eleventh and second of the game, in the fourth with Larry on base.

The first homer was made off Howard Ehmke, and the second off Eddie Rommel.

Ruth yesterday hit three home runs in the first game against Philadelphia. Ruth tied the record of five home runs for three consecutive games, held jointly by four other players and himself when he hit second today. Twice previously Ruth had hit five home runs in three consecutive games.

The Babe hit his third homer of the day in the second game, his sixth in two days—four games, tying Hack Wilson with 12 for year.

3 DEVELOPMENTS IN NATIONAL LEAGUE GAIN ATTENTION

SECOND BASEMAN HUGHIE CRITZ ACQUIRED BY NEW YORK GIANTS

CONTINUED SUCCESS OF BROOKLYN ROBINS IN NEW ROLE OF LEAGUE LEADERS

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, May 22.—Three important developments in the National League today commanded the attention of the nation's baseball fans:

1. Acquisition of Second Baseman Hughie Critz by the New York Giants.

2. Continued success of the Brooklyn Robins in their new role of league leaders.

3. Temporary collapse of the Chicago Cubs, 1929 champions.

Almost overnight the Giants have been transformed into the National League's most dangerous contenders by yesterday's trade which brought Critz, one of the best fielders in the majors, to the Giants from Cincinnati in exchange for Pitcher Larry Benton.

The Giants' future infield of Terry, Critz, Jackson and Lindstrom bids fair to develop into one of the greatest. Terry, Jackson and Lindstrom are recognized as among the best players in either league at their positions.

With Brooklyn continuing its dizzy pace which carried the Robins to the top of the league, members of the Giants believe the Robins are the team to beat to win the pennant.

Only half a game separated the four leading National League clubs today. Brooklyn leads St. Louis by half a game, with the Cardinals half a game ahead of Pittsburgh, and the Giants half a game behind the Pirates. Brooklyn, in first place, is a game and a half ahead of the of the Giants in fourth place.

Down in fifth place are the Chicago Cubs, 2 1-2 games from the top.

Our Doubles Demons

By HARDIN BURNLEY

EVEN before the United States tennis authorities began to pick our Davis Cup team this Spring, America's main hopes seemed to center on a youthful doubles combination that had already revealed much power. And that duo still consists of John Van Ryn of New Jersey and Wilmer Allison of Texas, who have been playing with more victorious consistency than any other pair in American tennis.

The firm of Van Ryn and Allison, George Lott and Johnny Doeg comprise our flamingly youthful team that will attempt to retrieve the famous Davis Cup from France later this year. Berkeley Bell—who seemed to sound the knell on the likable "Frank" Hunter's court greatness a few weeks ago—has been named alternate on the U. S. team. He, too, is a youth of a distinctly flaming nature—the kind that Willy-nam Tilden liked to spank when he was in his disciplinary prime!

The opinion is general that France will retain the Davis Cup after a hard struggle, chiefly through victories in the singles. And the impression prevails that Van Ryn and Allison will win in the doubles.

The Sport Bug is far more optimistic than nearly all our tennis expert friends, because we think the time has come for Rene La Coste & Co. to meet their Waterloo. Reliable reports indicate that ill health, time, and even elements of dissension are militating against the continuance of French court supremacy.

If that young American team is half as good as its admirers claim it to be, the French stars will be dimmed next July by the rise of the younger lights just as La Coste et al forced Tilden and Hunter to fade as far back as 1927.

The Sport Bug believes Uncle Sam's youngsters will bring that Davis Cup back home this year, aided, of course, by that Van Ryn-Allison combination. Tomorrow they play Mexico in the American Zone eliminations. The semi-finals will be played somewhere in Europe, July 18-20, and the great battle with the French in France is scheduled for July 25-27. It is a pessimist indeed who predicts our boys will not reach the finals.
